GIRLS' CLUB MADE MERRY

Miss Grace Carey Impersonates
Santa Claus and All Present
Receive Gifts

The Portsmouth Girls' Club made merry on Tuesday evening and celebrated Christmas in the broadest sense of the word.

The party assembled at 7.30 in the club rooms each girl bringing a present to put on the tree. Names were put on each present and no one was able to tell from whom the gift came. The tree was very brilliantly illuminated with tinsel, with a huge ball of silver tinsel at the topmost branch.

Each girl received a gift and a box of candy.

Miss Grace Carey appeared in the role of Santa Claus and her disguise was perfect.

Dancing was enjoyed until a late hour and refreshments of ices and cakes were served.

The efficient committee in charge was: Misses Mattie Horner, Esther Stober, Mabelle Pollner, Marion Call, Ed Freeman, Mrs. Anna Cogan and Mrs. John McPhee.

CASTOR OIL IS TASTELESS NOW

Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil is Pure Yet Without Taste or Smell

Now that castor oil is tasteless a perfect laxative has arrived.

Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil is a new product of the Kellogg Oil Mills in so absolutely without taste or smell that even the children do not object to it.

Good bye drugs and pills.

The Kellogg's way of making it does not take a single bit of good out of castor oil; rather it purifies the oil and makes it more effective.

Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil does even better work than the old-fashioned kind. Sold at all drug stores in 25c and 50c bottles not in bulk. Ask for it by name or you may be given the old kind, mixed or flavored.

The signature Kellogg's is on every bottle, in a green castor leaf trade mark.

Made only by Spencer Kellogg & Sons, Inc., Buffalo, N. Y., oil refiners.

Mrs. Hattie Towne of Lawrence, Mass., is visiting friends in town.

The five masted schooner Baker of Kittery is on her way to this port from Norfolk, Va.

Two hundred and three years ago on the 11th of December the ship Nottingham of London was totally wrecked on Bacon Island, and it was not until the 6th of January that the survivors of the crew were rescued from the wreck by two boats sent from Portsmouth. The body of the cook, who died from exposure, on the third day after the wreck, was discovered by the fishermen and half frozen seamen.

Two of those later lost their lives in attempting to reach the mainland on a raft, but the discovery of this raft on Wells Beach led to the ultimate rescue of the others. Of those brought to Portsmouth, it is said that Capt. John Dean alone escaped amputation of frozen feet, hands, or fingers. In connection with this memorable wreck it is interesting to note that the ship had a cargo largely consisting of pork and cheese, consigned to Boston. Captain Dean afterward commanded a ship in the Russian navy.

FOUR BATTLESHIPS A YEAR WOULD MEAN PEACE

Washington, Dec. 23.—Four battleships a year is the remedy for war prescribed by Rear Admiral Richard Wainwright, U. S. N., retired, who spoke at Chicago yesterday. Rear Admiral Wainwright was executive officer on board the Maine when that ship was blown up in Havana harbor on Feb. 15, 1898. He sharply criticized the "inadequate naval program" urged by Congress.

Rear Admiral Wainwright said he was in favor of peace, but that his methods were different from those of the pacifists. "Preachers of that false security called peace think an international court will decide questions of national honor in the future," he said. "They fail to understand that the court must have a strong military power at hand to enforce its decisions."

"Twenty members of the Farragut Naval Veterans' Association were the guests of the Hamilton Club at the luncheon. The speakers represent the Navy League, an organization whose aim is to promote peace by strengthening the military power of the country."

"Our nation differs from all other existing nations," said Colonel Robert M. Thompson, "in that a very large proportion, probably a majority of the children of foreign-born parents, however much they may feel that they have become citizens of the United States they are so only through their reason, and they have not an automatic intimate affection for our institutions."

"The enormous emigration in this country has created for us a citizenship wherein such expressions as 'Irish-Americans' and 'German-Americans' often are heard. Our great size, our wealth and the great number of inhabitants have given us an overwhelming council of our power and ability. For many years our business relations with foreign countries constituted of buying their goods and paying for them with the raw material of our fields, our forests and our mines. During that period there was little or no possibility of a clash with foreign nations. Today all that is changed. We no longer export food products; we import them.

"The problem presented to us is the maintenance of a navy, sufficiently strong to hold the seas against the military nations which might possibly attack us, and to hold them for such a length of time as would enable us to raise, equip and train an army.

"Give us a navy that would control the seas for two years. What then would be the possibilities of war? The equivalent of a dominating and disappearing faction. But suppose there arises a misunderstanding—there comes a collision, temper is aroused and if the angry individuals or nations can get at each other there is a fight, perhaps to the finish. If however the fight is carried on by correspondents, the temper of the countries has time to cool. For centuries England has kept actual fighting from the British Isles by maintaining a strong navy."

Rear Admiral Wainwright spoke after Colonel Thompson.

"Peace grows as military strength is systematized," he said. "In early history men fought single, later they fought in tribes, then towns, then villages, and now huge political divisions fight. There are many changes that easily could be effected in the regulation of the navy that would increase its strength. For instance, if the Government would see fit to do away with the small navy yards and increase the capacity of the larger ones much of the annual expenditure could be used in other directions. The Navy League does not advocate war as many people believe, but is attempting to bring war to an end by making it a very serious proposition."

CURRENCY BILL SIGNED BY PRESIDENT WILSON

Washington, Dec. 23.—President Wilson today signed the Currency bill and the second great plank in the Democratic Convention becomes law.

President Wilson left five hours later for Pope John, Miss., to pass a much needed three weeks vacation.

Senator Owen and Representative Glass, co-authors of the bill, members of the Congressional Banking Committee, and leaders in Congress were invited to attend the ceremony.

The President signed the bill with two gold pens, and presented one to Senator Owen and the other to Representative Glass.

The President had a cabinet session today, and exchanged Christmas greetings with his official family.

The conference report on the Administration Currency bill was approved by the Senate today, by a vote of 41 to 23. As the House already had approved it, there remained only the signature of the Vice President and the Speaker to complete the measure for President Wilson's signature.

Three Republicans and Senator Taft, Progressive, joined the Democrats voting for the bill in its final form.

The Republicans were Senators James, Norris and Weeks. The passage of the report was greeted with little demonstration.

Portsmouth, N. H., Wednesday, December 24, 1913.

The Crowning Holiday.

We are again on the eve of the happiest holiday of the entire year—Christmas. It is a day of rejoicing throughout the Christian world, and rightly so, but in our rejoicing we should not forget what the day commemorates, and in every practicable way the lesson should be pressed in upon youthful minds. It is the anniversary of the birth in the manger, the coming of Him who is the foundation of the Christian faith and the corner stone of the Christian church. It is an anniversary that warrants the highest happiness in every innocent form, a time when thoughtless and wanton revelry, altogether too common, is entirely out of place and out of keeping with the true spirit of the day.

The services in many of the churches last Sunday were in accord with the Christmas spirit and season, and preparations have been completed for the proper observance of the holiday by the Sunday schools. There will be the usual Christmas trees and programs of interesting and appropriate exercises to bring joy to the hearts of the children and instill into their minds a lesson which they will never forget, no matter how far from the path of right living some of them may unfortunately wander in later years. They will never entirely forget the happy and uplifting atmosphere which surrounded them at Christmas time in their days of youth and innocence. The memory of Christmas in childhood is one of the sweetest memories of every man and woman, whether its pleasures were experienced in homes of affluence or poverty.

Christmas is a time when the best impulses of the human heart come spontaneously to the surface. All right-minded men and women rejoice in the true significance of the anniversary and are prompted to do what lies in their power to scatter broadcast the happiness that should rule the day. It is the season of giving good gifts and extending good wishes. Christmas is, when properly observed, the most blessed day of the year for old and young.

The Herald extends to all its readers the compliments of the season.

Will Plug Along in the Same Old Way.

The currency bill is now a law and it is the purpose of the bill, according to the democratic idea, to make money easier. The people will, of course, in time, learn whether it is a good or bad measure, but for the present we will continue to plug along in the same old way at so much "per."

The lieutenant governor of Illinois has suggested a strike by the school children of Chicago as a protest against the action of the school board in not re-electing Mrs. Ella Flagg Young as superintendent of the schools of the city. It is an unworthy suggestion, such as Mrs. Flagg herself would never have been guilty of making under any circumstances.

Much comes from Chicago, and among other things is the declaration that there are no more men in the country out of employment than usual at this time of the year. This information is gained from the heads of the labor department of several states now assembled in the Windy city, and the probability is that it is reliable.

Hereafter oleomargarine manufacturers in New York state may turn out a product bearing the color of butter, provided the elements that produce the color are not "conscientiously chosen." The farmers do not like the decision, but the makers of butter substitutes are in high glee.

An exchange figures out that $5 will pay for a good Christmas dinner for a family of five. That is as much as many families will feel able to pay and, moreover, they will not need to go hungry if they do not pay out quite so much, high as is the cost of living.

The express companies have lively competition in the parcel post, and yet by advertising and hustling they are getting a fair share of the Christmas business. Perhaps there is room enough for both.

Boston policemen have been ordered not to chew tobacco or gum while on duty, in a way that will be conspicuous. But there will be no objection to conspicuousness in the performance of duty.

There is talk in Washington of putting up a barbed wire fence to keep the unruly Mexicans on their side of the line. But Uncle Sam is able to do better than that, and can be trusted to.

A Boston pastor denies that he has been offering special prayer for unfortunate railroad investors, but it is probable that the investors would not deny that they feel the need of it.

It is said that Vice President Marshall will go on the Chattanooga circuit next year. Will the time ever come when the circuit will be able to "land" the President?

CURRENT OPINION

PRESENT TREND OF WOMAN DISASTROUS

The type of woman has changed. She has become harder in feature, more wrinkled. Her complexion has been affected by outdoor life. She is more independent, has less reverence for authority, fewer home interests, in less of a stay-at-home.

Sport is a bad marriage market. An athletic girl becomes too like a man, exposes her character to him too much. Besides, as a rule, she neglects her home. You can tell an athletic girl at home. Bicycles are thrown together and never cleaned, hockey sticks are heaped together; ill shaped, muddy shoes are without laces, meals are at casual intervals; then there is an acquired bacilloid look and athletic carelessness of deportment.

Are women more emotional than men? I think they are, because for ages they have been used to deference and adulation. This has made them live in rivalry, to be fond of notoriety and advertisement, jealous of interference. As emotion is necessary for the spread of their new ideas and propaganda, their emotional trend in this direction is bound to increase, but it is not in a healthy way, because it tends to make them harder, more wrinkled, more like men, whereas they have more need of tender sentiment.

WOMAN GIVEN HER LIBERTY

Without Home or Friends
She Expresses a Desire for Death.

Monticello, N. Y., Dec. 23—Miss Adelaide France, the woman who was with Melvin H. Cough, former district attorney of Sullivan county, when he died suddenly Sunday morning in his office, was given his freedom into this afternoon, the authorities having failed to connect her with the death of the man for whom she incurred herself for three years.

Though freed now, even of the charge of petty larceny, on which she was held pending an investigation of the man's death, Miss France has asked permission to remain a volunteer prisoner for two or three days. "I cannot face the world now," she said today, "I am sick at heart and sick physically."

Sheriff Kline will permit the woman to stay long enough to regain her strength. She is destitute and says she has no place to which she might go. "Today she expressed the wish to die and he buried beside the dead man," Cough was buried this afternoon from the residence of his wife.

Late today Miss France gave the first hint as to her antecedents. "I was born in Cooperstown, N. Y., where my brother now is employed in the postoffice," she said. "My father and mother are dead, but that is all that I propose to tell of my family history. What happened to me before I came to Monticello 15 years ago, I feel concerning nobody."

CHRISTMAS 1913.

Hark! I hear the angels singing.
Blessed Mary, meek and mild;
Hear the wings of angels rustle,
Worshipping the new born child.

Faintly hear the sound of voices,
As unseen angels sing.
Welcome to the Christ, the Saviour,
That, oh hail the new born king.

And the cattle, lowing gently,
Seem to know that something dear
To the hearts of even cattle
In the air is hovering near.

In the hearts of all his children,
Gathered round in homes today,
Turns a love for Christ, their Saviour,
Even though of feeble ray.

A PRETTY WINDOW DISPLAY.

One of the prettiest Christmas displays seen in this city is the window of the Buckingham Light and Power Company. On one side is the large landscape scene painted by Miss Helen Tilton. A huge doll house, perfectly furnished and lighted with electric lights, delights the children, who longingly linger at this window.

On the other side is another pretty painting by Miss Tilton, a moon-light scene which is very artistic. In this window is the fireplace and old Kris Kringle with his pack full of presents stationed there. A large Christmas tree, lighted with the electric Christmas tree lighting outfit, is arranged at each side of the room.

SITUATION IN MEXICO

Interesting Letter Written to a Lady in This City Describing Conditions.

A well known lady of this city has received the following letter from a friend in Mexico City which we publish for the benefit of our readers, who are interested in the Mexican situation. The letter is as follows:

"Mexico City, Dec. 14.
"I take it from your letter that newspaper articles in the U. S. A. are very exciting in regard to Mexico, and I am glad to be down here where I know only the facts most of the time. Just after I got back in October, there was considerable excitement here in the city, and a great many people went to Vera Cruz, so as to be near John Lind and the warships, but they have all come back and think they still feel a little silly, over having run away, besides having their pocketbooks somewhat lighter, as prices down there went up out of sight because of the crowd.

"I was on a case in a Mexican family during the whole of it, and sincerely had time to think of it.

"The rebels have been trying to take Tampico for the past week, but aside from upsetting business I can't quite imagine what help it would give them, as there are warships enough right there to stop any destruction or looting of the town, and, of course, all they are looking for is money and supplies.

"Conditions are not improving, that is sure, and the administration at Washington is being held up to ridicule more and more every day.

"I will not try to write on the subject, for except you have been down here, you would not understand our view of it. That has been proven, by big business men who live here, and by others who come on trips from time to time.

"President Wilson is doing according to what he thinks is right, but he has never lived down here and cannot seem to be made to realize that an U. S. A. government would never do for Mexico.

"An article came out in the Mexican papers a few days ago, with some of John Hays Hammond's views on Mexico, etc., in which he is supposed to have said that any man investing money in a Latin-American country while 'Bryan' is in the cabinet, is absolutely devoid of sense. Of course, that was most for the Mexican who hates the Washington administration. On the other hand the name of John Hays Hammond does not signify, as here as it did a few years ago, in some circles.

"If war would cease, I think Mexico would come up quickly again, for there are many opportunities.

"Some things are cheaper because of the small demand for them, but necessary things are almost out of the reach of most people.

"Most people who have been successful here love it, and hate to leave, and in fact don't, except on business, even during these days of revolution. I have not the least idea of leaving Mexico, and feel perfectly safe. Will try not to stop any bullets."

OPEN AIR CONCERT.

Man With Jag Insists on Singing on Market Square.

People passing along Market Square this morning about 11 o'clock were treated to an open air concert by Andrew Thompson, a silver tongued tenor from the Pacific coast. Andrew was in great voice and with much feeling he rendered several vocal gems on the curbing in front of the First National bank. The singer from the Golden Gate was reaching off the second verse of "Back to Good Old Pease Town," when Patrolman Kelley appeared among the audience and directed Thompson to carry out the rest of the program on the playground. He moved on a block and the crowd dispersed. In a short time he was back at the old stand and another audience was captivated with the strains of "What Good is Water When You're Dry?" and "Where the River Shannon Flows." He was starting on one of his famous Scotch selections when Officer Kelley made the second call.

For the rest of the day he did his vocal exercises in the city redifiers for where he had a distinguished audience and got a good hand for every number of the afternoon program.

THE CHRISTMAS TOAST.

Sir Knights of DeWitt Clinton Commandery Will Follow Annual Custom.

On Christmas day, at high noon, the Sir Knights of DeWitt Clinton Commandery, Knights Templar, will assemble in their system for their annual observance. This is a custom which Masonry has followed for years and it is an impressive thought that as Christmas day throughout the world the members of this great fraternity in the Templar branch assemble at the same hour and extend greetings to the head of the order.

HUERTA CELEBRATES HIS BIRTHDAY—THE GOVERNMENT HARD UP

Mexico City, Dec. 23.—Provisional President Huerta today received what was an annual custom under the regime of Gen. Porfirio Diaz, of celebrating at the National Palace with great formality, the anniversary of the birth of the Chief Executive. Huerta was born on Dec. 23, 1864.

Before daylight this morning military bands from the regiments, which have their headquarters in the Federal capital, marched up and down in front of the palace and serenaded the provisional President, who afterward during the forenoon received the congratulations of committees representing all departments of the Government.

The final event in the day's celebration was a reception of the diplomatic corps, at which all the foreign representatives were present with the exception of Nathan O'Shaughnessy, American charge d'affaires. The Spanish Minister, Jacinto de Colanquean, of the diplomatic corps, delivered an address in Spanish congratulating him, to the name of his colleagues.

The machine and blue jackets from the Japanese cruiser Izumi, which arrived at Manzanillo, yesterday, are coming to the Federal capital, merely on a visit of several days' duration. La Nacion, the daily newspaper, published in the interests of the Catholic party, suspended publication today at the suggestion of the Mexican Government.

HUERTA TRIES TO SELL LAND

Offered Acre on Water Front in Vera Cruz to Foreign Nation, Which Declined to Buy.

Vera Cruz, Dec. 23.—The attempt to which the Administration has been reduced financially are indicated by the fact that President Huerta recently offered to sell an acre of National territory in Vera Cruz, fronting on the water to an official of a foreign Government.

The official, who is located in this city, visited the National capital, where the proposal was submitted. The place is said to have been attractive, but the offer was refused for fear of complications. Similar attempts are reported to have been made to dispose of National real estate in Mexico City.

The American consul at Nogales has been instructed to keep a careful check on the property conducted by the Carranza commanders, and also to protect to Carranza against such condemnation and to secure a return where possible.

TO DEMORALIZE REBELS

Federal Officer Asked Amnesty of Them and Then Urged Them to Desert.

Hermosillo, Sonora, Mex., Dec. 23.—Capt. Robert Roberto Montano, one of the federal officers of the Guaymas garrison, who surrendered recently to the insurgent outposts, was placed on trial here today before a court-martial, charged with an attempt to induce Constitutionalists officers to desert to the Federals.

It was alleged his act in making for amnesty was incident to a plot to demoralize the military organization of Gen. Carranza. The other 10 Federal officers who gave themselves up at Maytorena were not placed under arrest.

RELIEF BATTLESHIPS IN

U. S. S. Kennan and Connecticut at Vera Cruz—U. S. S. Louisiana and New Hampshire to Leave.

Vera Cruz, Mex., Dec. 23.—The United States battleships Kennan and Connecticut arrived here today and anchored outside the harbor with the Nebraska, the Louisiana and the New Hampshire. The two last-named vessels will leave at once for the United States. Official advices from Tampico state that all is quiet there.

RIVER AND HARBOR BILL WILL BE LARGE

Washington, D. C., Dec. 23.—A river and harbor bill, generous in its proportions, will be reported and passed during the present session of the 63rd congress, notwithstanding that the order has gone forth to cut appropriations to "the bone".

At a recent meeting of chairman of the House Committee charged with preparing appropriation bills and called at the instance of Speaker Clark, it was most generally agreed that appropriation bills should be held down to the actual necessities of the government and the demands of public works now in process of completion. These conclusions did not go as far, however, as the public press indicates, that new projects in the forthcoming river and harbor bill will be noticeable by their absence, the bill carrying appropriations for projects already in way and studiously ignoring new projects which have the endorsement of the chief of engineers.

As a matter of fact the members of the rivers and harbor committee expect to see a bill passed that will provide for several monthlong projects.

"We shall have to have a river and harbor bill at this session to take care of projects for which estimates have been made up to March 4, 1914," said Chairman S. M. Sparkman of the Rivers and Harbors Committee of the house. It is difficult to tell at this point what estimates, or if any of them will be cut, notwithstanding the fact that the public prints that the order has gone forth to pare appropriations to fit existing conditions. Our purpose is to keep work moving on harbors and rivers up to the close of the short session of the present congress which will be March 4, 1914 when another river and harbor bill will likely become a law.

It may, and doubtless will be found that estimates can be cut in some instances. If so the committee of which I have the honor to be chairman will not hesitate to put in the pruning knife. So far as new projects are concerned, the committee has not determined, whether, if any, and if any, how many, projects will be taken on in the bill which is now in the process of making.

There are about $20,000,000 millions in new projects not yet adopted. That is projects that have come into us from the chief engineers. Some of these projects are very large and number about 76 in all. Our aim will be to take care of every deserving project in due season, mindful of the condition of the treasury and the demands of the public. We want to improve our rivers and harbors in a most efficient manner but at the same time along economic lines and the committee is moving along these lines. Hearings have already been held on improvements needed on the lower Mississippi, on the Sacramento river, on a deeper harbor at Beverly, Mass., while the people of Memphis, Tenn., are anxious that considerable work should be done at that port. Other hearings have included improvements on the Sabine and Shawnee and a waterway from the Appalachicola to the Gulf of Mexico.

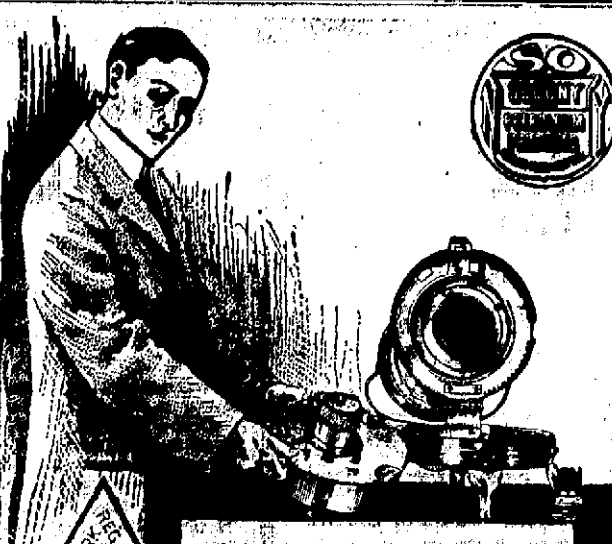

"While the new river and harbor bill which will probably be reported the last of January, may not be as large as that of the 62nd congress, I believe it will be generous in its proportions and keep the work of improvements on our waterways considerably going on."

It is interesting to know that in this connection the chief of engineers of the army estimates that his department can spend in river and harbor work during the coming year $32,200,000. This amount has been "cut to the bone" so to speak and has been pared to meet the demands of Speaker Clark and those charged with the responsibility of furnishing the sinews to run the government and keep up the public work. These estimates are by no means as large as those of 1912 and it seems, therefore, fair to assume that the river and harbor bill of the present session of congress will amount to about thirty millions in round numbers.

ANNUAL REPORT OF CHIEF OF APPOINTMENT DIVISION.

Washington, Dec. 23.—The annual report of the Chief of the Appointment Division in the Secretary of Commerce for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1913, has just been published.

At the end of the fiscal year there were in the Department 8,738 positions, of which 1,708 were in the District of Columbia and 7,030 outside. This shows a decrease of 1,176 as compared with 9,914 on August 24, 1912. In the last annual report. This decrease is accounted for by the transfer on March 4, 1913, by operation of law, of 1,814 positions to the Department of Labor, 1,758 of which were reported in the last annual report. 82 of which were the not increase in those bureaus from the date of the last annual report to the date of transfer to the new Department, forming the Department of Labor, and 16 of which were transferred from the Office of the Secretary. The not increase in the bureaus remaining in the Department of Commerce was 680 positions. Miscellaneous employments by the bureau to the number of 8,942 to which

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

This New Model Perfection Heater is smokeless, odorless and economical.

The shape of the font, wide and shallow, allows the oil to pass readily up the wick and insures an even, glowing heat even when the font is almost empty. The font holds more than a gallon of oil and an indicator shows the amount of fuel left at a glance.

There is no smoke or smell with a Perfection. The automatic-locking flame-spreader prevents smoking. No gallery to unscrew, or catch oil and dust.

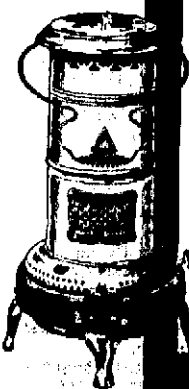

Made with vitreous blue enamel or plain steel drums. Ornamental, inexpensive, lasts for years. Easily cleaned and moved about.

STEFANSSON'S MEN ARE SAFE

Arctic Explorer Goes Into Winter Quarters at Collinson Point.

Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 23.—Dr. H. U. Anderson, chief anthropologist with the Stefansson expedition, reported to George J. Dew Baras, deputy minister of naval affairs, today, that all the scientists and members of the crew of the explorer's vessels are safe in winter quarters at Collinson Point, 50 miles from Flaxman Island, in the Arctic circle.

The report arrived by rail today and states, contrary to recent despatches from Seattle, that neither of the two vessels is damaged to any extent. The Mary Sachs was caught in the ice packs last September, but can easily be repaired.

Dr. Anderson reports last having seen the Kurluk in an ice pack near Point Barrow on Aug. 19.

The mail received today was despatched from Collinson Point on Oct. 12, by runner to Circle City, Alaska, and thence it was sent south by steamer.

Dr. Anderson, who was formerly chief anthropologist of the American Museum of Natural History, stated that the charts prepared by H. D. K. Loringwell, the American explorer, were of inestimable value.

The Mary Sachs, with Kenneth Chapman, a geologist, in charge, and the Alaska, reached Collinson Point on Sept. 27 and decided to winter there.

BRING CHARGES AGAINST SING SING OFFICIALS

New York, Dec. 23.—The investigation into stories of ill-treatment of prisoners at the New York County penitentiary on Blackwell's Island has broadened in scope to include allegations of wilful and corrupt misconduct in office of officers of the institution.

This was set forth today in a petition filed in the supreme court by an assistant district attorney asking for a writ of habeas corpus directing the warden of the Sing Sing state prison to produce before the grand jury here tomorrow one George L. Lewis, formerly a prisoner of Blackwell's Island. The writ was granted.

Lewis, now in Sing Sing, was formerly on Blackwell's Island, where he acted as a book-keeper.

BACKS BRITAIN ON FAIR

London, Dec. 23.—The Morning Post in an editorial, which runs contrary to general opinion, expresses approval of the British Government's decision against participation in the Panama-Pacific Exposition. It declines to believe that such refusal will injure Anglo-American relations, or that the habit of "travelling in the demands of the United States" has really promoted good feeling between the two countries.

The Herald Hears

That here ought to be less politics in the fire department.

That the man who called all the neighbors to could find who were armed city government.

That this appointment is the one
